Iseman's All-Stars Win From Martinsburg Team, By Total Margin of 15 Pins

Special to The Washington Herald.
Martinsburg, W. Va., Jan. 27.—George Iseman's Washington All-Stars invaded here today and played the final five games of a ten game series with the local team to count, to deciding the verdict. After some of the most sensational bowling that has been witnessed here in a long while, the Capital City pin splitters nosed-out the local by a fifteen pin margin, having for their grand total 5,986 to 5,971 gathered by the locals.

In last night's rolling the Palace team of this city knocked down the local maples for a 2,999 count to the visitors 2,952. The Capital City team came here with a ninety-one pin lead, but after the first game had been completed the locals cut down this lead and were one pin in the van. In the second, Washington got to going a little better and finished five pins ahead, on the total. The third game saw the visitors thirty-six pins ahead, but the locals were out for revenge and cut down this margin in the fourth and went thirty-six pins to the good.

The visitors showed plenty of "pep" in the final and shot the highest game of the evening. They spilled 647 pins, while the locals were gathering 596, putting them fifteen pins ahead on the grand total.

"Pop" Halley of the visitors was the feature, as he gathered a set of 653 for his five games. Caskey of the locals counted 582 in his five games. The scores:

Tommy Connolly is Sold To Western League Club

Griff Lets Former Georgetown Star Go to Sioux City. Will Hold String.

OTHER SPORT GOSSIP

By WILLIAM PRET.

Georgetown Tommy Connolly has been sold to the Sioux City club, of the Western League, and will report to the Missouri team for spring practice.

Connolly early last season was one of the most talked of young men in the American League, and it was predicted that he would be the real sensation of the year until he suddenly shot his bolt and was promptly shut out of the minors to finish the season. Griff signed Connolly when the youngster was playing third base for Georgetown, and Tommy joined the club in Chicago on the first Western trip of the Nationals.

It will be remembered that Connolly was used in left field, and his batting was a sight for sore eyes. In fact, he was about the only member of the Washington club who was hitting worth his salt.

Connolly previous to joining the Nationals had some experience in a fast minor league club which operated under the name of a semi-pro organization, and he was nobody's fool.

Instead of fishing after curves and splitters, Connolly when he first joined the Nationals simply laid back and waited for that fast one to come over. When it arrived he promptly bumped it.

In Cleveland one day Connolly walked into a fast ball of Guy Morton's and slammed out the prettiest three-base hit you ever saw.

Naturally, it did not take the American League hurlers long to get Connolly's "alley," and when they refused to give him anything over the heart of the plate at which to swing, his batting average dropped down to the size of his hat, something like six and seven-eighths.

Frederick of the Blue Ridge Mountain League, got Connolly during the last end of 1915, and he was "Georgetown Tommy" broke down all the fences in that circuit with his long drives.

It was the opinion that Connolly possesses the making of a real ball player, and has farmed him out to Sioux City of the Western League. There is of course a string attached and Connolly's work will be watched with considerable interest.

Griffith last night stated that he had virtually decided to order Ray Morgan to report in Charlottesville for spring training, which means that Morgan will be given one more chance to make good with the Nationals.

In addition to Morgan, Morley Jennings will also be on the job and it looks as if these men would fight it out for the second base position.

Even if the Washington club should be awarded Joe Gedeon in the fight for possession of this ball player, it is doubtful if Gedeon would be much use to the Nationals.

Several reasons were given for the fact that the New York Yankees have offered him, and therefore, why he is not being released with conditions here, which would hardly make him a desirable citizen.

After looking over the records of the various shortstops of the American League the New York Club has about decided that it would be foolish to let Roger Peckinpaugh slip outside the fold.

Here's the main reason for keeping Peckinpaugh, according to Joe Vito, of the New York Evening Sun. Unless Peckinpaugh is released by Ray Chapman, of the Clevelanders, can be arranged, the Yankees will play Roger Peckinpaugh at shortstop again this year. Peckinpaugh, as a fielder, is without a superior. He has a wonderful throwing arm and covers an acre. But in batting he never has made much headway and it is doubtful if he will ever be a regular.

Anderson topped the Jensen team with a set of 291 and was followed by Deming with 282. The Beckwicks were lead by Bussius, who bowled 285. The scores:

LOCAL SWIMMERS TO MEET NITES TODAY

Washington Club Selects Aquatic Athletes to Race Navy—A. A. U. Releases Ban on Annapolis.

For the past few weeks members of the team of the Washington Swimming Club have been training faithfully in the pool of the Young Men's Christian Association, getting in condition for the struggle with the swimming team of the Naval Academy which takes place in Annapolis this afternoon.

Back in 1912 and 1913 before the naval officers had acquired the reputation of having one of the best swimming teams in the East, the Washington club were able to make them satisfied with the small end of the score on two occasions, and much interest is shown in today's contest, which will prove the relative strength of the two teams at this time.

On account of objections on the part of the Amateur Athletic Union all athletes registered with that union have not been able to compete with either of the service institutions up to this time without fear of suspension. This disability no longer exists, because at a recent meeting of the national body of the A. A. U., a resolution was passed to the effect that athletes registered with that union representing teams of their athletic organizations may compete with either of the service institutions, and all that is required is that the A. A. U. be furnished with a statement signed by the officer in charge of athletics at the institution to the effect that the men competing for the academy are amateurs, members of the academy, and are thoroughly authorized by him to compete.

The events and men poked to swim in them are as follows: 160 yard relay, J. M. Cutts, R. L. Brassfield, E. B. Ansley, J. H. Winter, Owen Thompson and H. S. Palmer; forty yard dash, J. H. Winter, Owen Thompson and H. S. Palmer; forty yard dash, J. H. Winter, Owen Thompson and H. S. Palmer; forty yard dash, J. H. Winter, Owen Thompson and H. S. Palmer.

Board of Governors of Interscholastic Circuit Wants Physical Director to Handle Affairs.

Although the Board of Education accepted the resignation of Dr. William B. Hudson, physical director of Business High School, the local interscholastic league refused to accept his resignation as president of that circuit, yesterday at a meeting held at the Arcade Building.

Dr. Hudson is better posted on the handling of the affairs of the league than any other member of the governing board of that circuit and the members present yesterday realized this and requested that he remain the rest of this season.

Four members of the governing board were present, including Coach Newberry of the Army and Navy Prep, Coach Morse of Western, Coach De Grange of Central and Dr. Hudson. The schedule for the remainder of the season was rearranged as follows:

Friday, Jan. 25—Business vs. St. Albans; Eastern vs. Army and Navy. Tuesday, Feb. 1—Business vs. Western; Eastern vs. St. Albans. Friday, Feb. 11—Army and Navy vs. Central; Business vs. Eastern. DOG SHOW AT EBBITT HOTEL ON FEBRUARY 3

The Washington Kennel Club will stage in the New Ebbitt Hotel on the evening of February 3 one of the largest matches ever held south of Philadelphia. The committee in charge have completed all arrangements and the entries are pouring in daily. Dr. Payette in the Kenos Building is busy arranging the classes and everything that is a model exhibit of colic and bulidogs.

The judges for the evening will be C. S. Barnes, of Boston, Mass., one of the best and most popular judges of this class, and Dr. Watson, of this city, for the breed from the British Isles.

Specials have been offered as follows: Bulldogs, cup for best dog, cup for the best female puppy, $5 in gold for the best male puppy, $5 in gold for the best brood female and $2.50 in gold for the best puppy under six months. For colic, cup for the best dog, cup for the best female, Mr. L. F. Dyson and Mr. J. Carter Burns also offered specials in the event.

The judge will start promptly at nine o'clock and the public is cordially invited. Everything will be arranged for the comfort of the guests and the New Ebbitt is to be congratulated on this fine interest in the dog show of this district of the District of Columbia.

CHASE AND SCHULZ ON AMERICAN BLACKLIST

Chicago, Jan. 26.—If President Phil Ball and Manager Jones, of the St. Louis Browns, decide they want Hal Chase for first base next season, it will be by the wishes of seven other American League club owners who have no weight with them.

It was the unanimous opinion, informally expressed, of these club owners, that it would be best for the American League to drop Chase and to sign a player from the Federal League without opposition.

The two were Hal Chase, formerly of the White Sox, and Pitcher Schulz, formerly of the Yankees.

The foregoing was corroborated yesterday by President Johnson, of the American League.

DATE FOR POUCHKEESIE REGATTA UNDECIDED

New York, Jan. 26.—The date of the Pouchkeesie Regatta is undecided, and the meeting of the stewards which was scheduled to take place today to make a final choice has been abandoned. The date for the races will be selected by correspondence.

The unwillingness of the New York Central Railroad to operate the observation train on Saturday, July 1, and the unwillingness of the city of New York to row before that date have caused a deadlock, which the stewards have been unable to break in two conferences.
